On the surface it's a loser...

which suggests an $11 loss per member

Members pay a $79
Membership fee

And get $90
worth of services

But since members buy...

1.5x
more purchases annually,
including many items that they would not otherwise
buy from amazon...

and spend 2.4x
more than non-members do
—$1,224 yearly vs. $505

More members join steadily

The actual ROI is surprising...

Amazon makes $78 per member, per year—so the entire membership fee
proves to be almost 'pure'
profit...

This is a key reason why
Amazon stock price is up 296% in two years!
